How different snowfall amounts affect different regions of the country:

Accumulation:	East Coast:	The South:	Midwest:
Flurries, > 1 Inch:	Commute times increased by 25-50%	Mild panic and a general sense of doom.	Start to think about wearing long pants... Maybe...
1-4 Inches:	Travel advisories issued.	Schools Closed.	Have to brush the snow off the grill before cooking out or tailgating before the Packer game.
4-8 Inches:	Air traffic diverted, Flights delayed or cancelled.	Stores emptied of bottled water, bread and other emergency provisions.	Roads get salted, Walking the dog becomes a bit more labor intensive. (The dog loves it though...)
8-12 Inches:	Continuous reporting on CNN/ The Weather Channel about this year's "SNOWMAGEDDON"	State of Emergency Declared.	Everyone stocking up on beer cause lines at liquor stores to become even longer than usual.
12-24 Inches:	Schools closed, as well as businesses, airports, hospitals, and all non-essential Government services.	Federal Disaster Declared. National Guard called in.	Minor Traffic Delays.
24-36 Inches:	Total travel ban enforced.	Complete societal breakdown.	Yoga Classes Cancelled.
36+ Inches:	Jim Cantore spotted.	Nothing left alive except for small burrowing mammals which will eventually evolve and repopulate the region.	SNOW DAY! YAY!!! <small>(Except for you. You still have to go to work)</small>

I don't feel like I'm getting older....
It's more like my warranty has expired and my parts are wearing out.
